

Rhodes Does It Again As Giants Coast To Third Win, 6-2

Dusty Equals Series Record As Pinchhitter

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1 (AP)—Pinchhitter Dusty Rhodes came through again and Willie Mays started hitting as the alert New York Giants shoved the shoddy-fielding Cleveland Indians to the edge of the cliff with a third straight World Series victory.

Hoyt Wilhelm strode from Manager Leo Durocher's well-stocked bullpen with his puzzling knuckler to nail down a 6-2 New York triumph when Puerto Rican Ruben Gomez weakened in the eighth after a blazing seven-inning job.

Rhodes, the spectacular clutch hitter who won the first two for the inspired National League champs, rose from the bench to deliver a key two-run pinch single in the third, tying a series record set by the Yanks' Bobby Brown in 1947. It mattered little that he went down swinging the last two times up and his gaudy 1,000 batting average melted to .667.

Day by day, Rhodes moves closer to a starting berth. He won the first game with a 10th inning homer and got into action yesterday in the fifth. This time Durocher wasted no time and called for him to bat for Monte Irvin in the third.

When the Duster ripped Mike Garcia's first pitch into right field to chase home Don Mueller and Mays, the Giants had opened up a 3-0 lead. They never were in danger of being caught until the eighth when Wilhelm applied the stopper.

The New Yorkers now are in a position where another triumph tomorrow would close out the Series and make them the first National League team to win the World Series title since the St. Louis Cardinals did it in 1946. Don Liddle, small lefthander with a 9-4 record, has been chosen to pitch for the Giants by Durocher.

There was no doubt about the Cleveland flinger, Bob Lemon, a rightie beaten in the first game, was named by Manager Al Lopez in the dressing room today.

West Studies Atomic Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 1 (AP)—Western delegates checked Moscow's new atomic plan closely today for information on several important and puzzling points. They were left wondering how far the Russians are prepared to go.

These delegates and some neutral sources here said privately that Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky apparently took an affirmative step yesterday in putting his atomic proposals before the U.N. Assembly. But they said he ruined the effect by voicing the usual Soviet assault on the United States and others and by accusing Nationalist China of piracy in Formosa Strait.

Selwyn Lloyd, British minister of state, will give the first Western reaction in a speech to the Assembly Monday. In debate today, Ernesto de Moraes Leme, Brazil, said the Vishinsky view was one of the more hopeful signs in the Assembly. Brazil is a member of the U.N. Disarmament Commission.

Another Latin-American delegate, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, of the Dominican Republic, warned free nations not to be misled by Vishinsky. In a statement he called the Russian proposal a "subterfuge to kill the Eisenhower atoms for peace plan."

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief American delegate, had nothing to say about the Vishinsky plan today but said the United States is ready to negotiate anywhere — "in Times Square if necessary" — with the Russians on President Eisenhower's atoms for peace plan. But he had the opinion they did not want to join the pool.

Unexpected Crisis Faces Conference

AMID A TANGLE OF WIRES, toppled utility pole, crunched metal and splintered wood this truck ended a wild ride down N. Ninth St. last Thursday night. Truck Driver Fined After $4,000 Crash

A BURLINGTON, N.J. truck driver paid a $10 fine before Stroudsburg Burgess Hal Harris on a charge of driving "too fast for conditions."

The driver, William R. Edge, 59, was operator of a transfer truck which went out of control on N. Ninth St. late Thursday night. The truck smashed into a parked car, clipped off a utility pole and came to a stop at the porch of the Hagerty residence.

Total damages in the accident were estimated at $4,000 or more. Police said the utility pole which was torn down carried telephone cable to several subscribers in the Ninth St. area.

The truck Edge was driving was loaded with frozen food and refrigeration display cases of the kind used in supermarkets. Both cargo and truck were owned by the C. V. Hill Co., Inc., of Trenton, N.J.

No one was injured in the accident, police said, but Edge was taken to General Hospital where he was placed under sedation, then released yesterday.

Edge was given a hearing yesterday morning on the "too fast for conditions" charge.

He paid a $10 fine; told police he could not remember exactly what happened when his truck went out of control.

Owner of the parked car which was hit by the truck was Deane L. Keiper, Stroudsburg RD, a painter, police said.

Warm October Predicted For Eastern States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Weather Bureau anticipated that October will be a little warmer than usual in the south and east, but cooler than average in the north and west.

It issued this outlook today: "The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for October calls for temperatures to average above seasonal normals over southern and eastern portions of the nation with greatest departures in the Southeast. On the other hand, below normal temperatures are expected to prevail over western and northern areas with greatest departures in the Northern Plains.

"Precipitation amounts are predicted to exceed normal over most of the area between the Continental Divide and the Appalachians. Sub-normal rainfall is indicated in the Far West and in the South Atlantic States. Otherwise near normal amounts are indicated."

New Demonstrations Against Racial Integration In Schools Flare In Maryland, Illinois

By The Associated Press

HUNDREDS of whites assembled in two Maryland and Illinois cities yesterday to demonstrate against racial integration in the schools as Florida and Kansas filed segregation briefs with the U. S. Supreme Court.

In Milford, Del. meanwhile pro-segregationists celebrated an end to integration in a white school which previously had admitted 11 Negro students.

A demonstration in Baltimore brought out a mob of about 400 white adults and teenagers who threatened three Negro students leaving Southern High School, One 14-year-old student, Leon Thompson, was punched in the face. Police arrested a man who gave his name as Jack Zimmerman, 24, and he subsequently was fined $100 for striking the boy.

Two other Negro boys were escorted away from the school by a minister and a teacher. Three white men were fined $25 for disorderly conduct.

There are 36 Negroes among the 1,780 students enrolled at the high school, which opened its doors to Negroes for the first time this semester.

Baltimore's Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro declared that the situation has become "a matter of serious concern." He called for calmness as the city's school board refused to alter its course in ending segregation.

White students milled around the school waving pro-segregation placards. The Negro students went into the building in a body after the morning demonstration, and 10 of them were escorted home by police after their parents expressed concern for their safety.

At Milford, attendance returned to normal Friday as Negroes stayed away from classes. A new school board ruled Thursday that the 11 Negroes who had been re-enrolled in the previously all-white Milford High School should be removed from the school.

In East St. Louis, Ill., about 200 persons appeared at a district school board meeting Thursday night and demanded the board's

Two French Officials Leak Secrets

By GODFREY ANDERSON

PARIS, Oct. 1 (AP)—The French counterespionage service disclosed today that two high and trusted defense officials had confessed leaking secret information from the National Defense Council, top military planning body of the nation.

The disclosure came after the two men had been questioned all last night in the case that is threatening to blow up into a major political scandal—how did reports from top secret meetings of the Defense Council reach the Communist party's high command?

The officials named were Rene Turpin, chief of the personal staff of the permanent secretary general for national defense, and Roger Labrousse, chief administrator of the same department.

Both men were arrested and questioned all last night by counterintelligence agents and today by the military magistrate who under French law, acts as a sort of one-man grand jury in such an investigation. The men were taken to Fresnes Prison on the southern outskirts of Paris tonight.

resignation. Led by Paul Chittay, a filling station operator, the group protested increased enrollment of Negroes at the Centerville grade school near East St. Louis.

Two Women Badly Hurt In Accident

CANADENSIS — Two women were badly hurt and an estimated $5,000 property damage was caused last night when a car went out of control on Route 390 here.

Mount Pocono State police said the car was driven by Mrs. Ruth Belle Dykstra, 35, of Downey, Calif. Mrs. Downey and a passenger, June Harding, 31, of Mount Pocono, were taken to Monroe County General Hospital by the Barrett Township ambulance, in its first official call.

Hospital authorities said Miss Harding had suffered a possible fractured skull and leg fractures. Mrs. Downey was reported suffering from a chest fracture, body bruises and a very deep forehead cut.

Police said Miss Harding was partially thrown from the car by the impact of the crash. The police report gave these details.

Mrs. Downey was operating the car toward Canadensis down a hill on Route 390 when the brakes on the car apparently failed, according to information she gave the police.

The car, Mrs. Downey said, continued to gain speed. When it crossed the intersection at Canadensis, the car swerved off the highway, crashed into two gasoline pumps at a service station there.

Police said both gas pumps were knocked down completely and the crash caused a flash fire when gasoline in the pumps exploded. Damage to the car and the service station property was extensive, the police report said.

Operators of the gas station are Leon Rose and Russell Michaels, both of Canadensis. Tanks on the property were owned by the Atlantic Refining Co.

Owner of the convertible Mrs. Downey was driving was listed as Ann Sze, formerly of Miami, Fla., but for the past two weeks a resident of Mount Pocono, police said.

Barrett Township volunteer fire chief George Huguennin said the only fire at the accident site occurred at the time of the crash. The company stayed at the site for some time, however.

The flashing blaze at the time of impact was caused by igniting gasoline. The fire did not spread or keep blazing, however, Huguennin said.

Last night's accident marked the first time the new Barrett Township ambulance has been used. Residents of the community are still being asked to contribute to the ambulance fund, officials said.

Court Refuses To Rule On Senate Seat

RENO, Nev., Oct. 1 (AP)—Nevada's Supreme Court ruled today it lacked jurisdiction in the dramatic legal tussle between Republicans and Democrats over the status of the U.S. Senate seat vacated by the death of Sen. Pat McCarran, a Democrat.

The high court refused in Carson City to block certification of two candidates by the secretary of state for the Nov. 2 general elections. Republicans had sought to block the certification by court ruling, contending the seat already had been filled by appointment by Nevada's Republican governor.

"We'll proceed in the lower courts," commented Lester Summerville, Republican Central Committee attorney.

Earlier today Nevada's Republican governor named a Republican, Ernest Brown, to fill the vacant Senate post. The Democrats later nominated a candidate, Alton Bible, to oppose him if the seat is contested in the Nov. 2 election.

State Workers Indicted On Macing Count

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1 (AP)—Fifteen state officials and employees—including Gov. John S. Fine's top assistant and one of his cabinet members—were indicted today on charges of conspiring to force state workers to contribute funds to a Republican political campaign.

Among those indicted by an Allegheny County Grand Jury were Artemus C. Leslie, state insurance commissioner, a cabinet member; and Frederick P. Hare, the governor's administrative assistant.

They are charged with conspiring to "mace" or unlawfully demand money from public employees for political purposes.

Leslie and Hare were among 18 state officials and workers recommended for indictment by a special grand jury that investigated the "macing" charges last summer. The special grand jury could only recommend indictment. It had no power to actually indict.

Of the 18 included in the special grand jury's recommendation, three escaped indictment today. They were L. Merle Catpbell, state banking secretary and also a cabinet member; and Fred W. Stahl and Nelson J. Cameron, both assistant superintendents in the state highways dept. Campbell had been cited for conspiracy and Stahl and Cameron for conspiracy and macing.

Louis Bowtze, an assistant Allegheny County district attorney, said conspiracy is punishable by a fine of $500 and or imprisonment up to two years. "Macing," he said, is punishable by a $1,000 fine and or one year imprisonment.

France Blocks Compromise Plan To Rearm Reich

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON, Oct. 1 (AP)—With a surprise veto tonight France blocked a compromise plan to free and rearm West Germany within the Western defense alliance. The action plunged the nine-power conference on Western European unity into an unexpected crisis.

A British Foreign Office spokesman immediately warned that the Churchill government will withdraw its 48-hour-old offer to maintain troops on the European continent if the conference breaks down.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has already warned the United States might have to withdraw its troop from Europe unless the talks succeed. He made no move to change his plans for going home tomorrow night, and an American source expressed confidence the new snags would be overcome.

Reports circulating late tonight said the French had put out the word that they would not let the conference fail. Diplomats worked in private through the night on possible solutions.

A highly placed conference source said that although the new development was serious, the conference "cannot be written off at this point." He said calm counsel may prevail overnight.

After the conference had been reported moving rapidly toward success, France suddenly rejected a compromise plan to bring West Germany within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and an enlarged seven-nation Brussels conference alliance.

Yesterday, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France was reported to have accepted the compromise—advanced by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak—to give NATO and the enlarged Brussels grouping joint controls aimed at preventing any runaway German rearmament.

Today, Mendes-France told the conference the Spaak plan did not go far enough in rigidly controlling every aspect of the manufacture and distribution of arms.

Instead he demanded fuller consideration of his own program, which called for controls to rest mainly in the hands of a new European Armaments Authority.

The session seethed with excitement and conference officials reported "harsh words were exchanged" on the merits and demerits of the rival proposals. Personal exchanges apparently were avoided.

In the give and take Mendes-France proposed adoption of a formula defining most of West Germany as an "exposed area" where production of atomic-bacteriological-chemical weapons, guided missiles, naval vessels and aircraft would be banned.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer rejected this as too discriminatory. He asked that the proposal be changed so additional categories of weapons could be produced in German territory.

At that point, it seemed, Mendes-France blew up.

According to a version supplied by officials of three delegations, the French leader accused his colleagues of having dismissed his all-embracing plan for armaments control without giving it enough thought. He said he intends to stand by it.

Dulles, Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester Pearson and Spaak suggested amendments to Spaak's compromise to make it more acceptable to Mendes-France. A British spokesman said these efforts failed. A French source, however, said the Dulles suggestions "were interesting" and would be discussed tomorrow.

Triplets Born; Couple Now Has Six Young Sons

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Josephine Semko, 26, already the mother of three boys, gave birth to three more today.

The premature triplets were born in Braddock General Hospital. A spokesman for the hospital said the father, Frank, 26, of Pittsburgh, almost collapsed when told about the event.

The hospital said after Frank realized what had happened he asked:

"How's mother? Have the babies any chance?"

Sister Mary Conrad said it is doubtful whether all of the triplets will live. The hospital said the total weight of the three babies wouldn't be over five pounds.

Frank was recently discharged from the Navy. He said he will enlist for another hitch next week because he is without a job.

The Semkos have twins, Ronald and Richard, 2; and another boy, Freddie, 4.

Oppenheimer Re-elected To Institute Post

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, barred four months ago from the nation's atom secrets, today was re-elected director of the Institute of Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J.

The decision by the institute's 15-man board allows Oppenheimer to continue his research in fundamental physics, without access to secret data.

The reelection of Oppenheimer to the post he has held since 1947 was reportedly unanimous.

The 50-year-old Oppenheimer was a brilliant scientific leader in the race to develop the world's first atom bomb for this country.

But he drew criticism upon himself by his admitted association with known Communists and by his 1949 opposition to proceeding with the development of the hydrogen bomb.

Third Wife Said To Have Left Astor

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—John Jacob Astor and his third wife today were reported to have parted company, just about six weeks after they were wed.

It was learned that she has left his Fifth Avenue apartment and moved into a Manhattan hotel.

The reported rift came while Astor, 43-year-old heir to a 70-million-dollar fortune, still was in a court fight with his second wife.

First report of the new marital troubles came today in a copyright story in the New York World-Telegram and Sun.

It said the third Mrs. Astor, the former Dolores "Dolly" Margaret Fullman, left Astor Sept. 21, "the very day she and her husband returned from a European honeymoon. She hasn't been back since."

Her mother, Mrs. George J. Fullman, who flew here from her home in Miami, confirmed that her daughter is staying with her at the Hotel Essex. But she declined to comment on the reported breakup.

Mrs. Astor herself, a pretty blonde of 26 who was married to Astor early in August, could not be reached at once. Her attorney, Louis Nizer, sent out word he "has no information."

She previously was married to Wayne Guyther, a New York advertising executive, who said when they were divorced that she left him after a month of marriage.

Small Tornado Wrecks Homes

SHARON, Pa., Oct. 1 (AP)—Residents of nearby Sharpsville today cleaned up debris left in the wake of a small tornado that wrecked at least a dozen homes, uprooted trees, snapped utility lines and shattered windows.

The storm struck last night, causing property damage estimated in the thousands of dollars. No deaths or injuries were reported.

A Sharpsville man, Angelo Rosi, averted a possible serious accident after spotting a large tree that had fallen across the tracks of the Erie Railroad.

He ran several hundred feet down the tracks and flagged down an oncoming freight train with a flashlight.

ALL OVER THE WORLD

Glance at an atlas or give your globe a spin. It's a vast world, encompassing continents, oceans, mountains, deserts and valleys. Its inhabitants number in the billions, and they in turn are divided into many nations, each with varied tongues, creeds, and religions.

But here at last we have struck upon a common denominator — religion. For all peoples in all times have recognized a superior power — their creator.

On World Wide Communion Day, Christians all over the world unite in their churches to partake of the Lord's Supper, one of the holiest rituals of the Church. Together, in His house, their prayers attain a new significance. Their voices blend into one universal voice, from which stems new power and meaning.

Go to your church on World Wide Communion Day. You will be in the fellowship of millions of worshippers, receiving with them new hope for peace of mind and soul—and peace for the world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"E" For Effort

West End citizens, aided by Rep. Francis E. Walter, D., Easton, have won the right to continue to be served by fourth class post offices at Gilbert and Effort.

Post Office Department has withdrawn its proposal to close both offices after citizens and postmasters in both offices demonstrated that in each case receipts at the post offices warranted continued operation.

These facts, plus petitions, were carried to the top postal officials by Rep. Walter with a demand the offices be left alone.

Here is another demonstration that people of a democracy, and only a democracy such as ours, have the right and the power to enforce intelligent government operation and to utilize the abilities of their representatives in government to be SERVED—and not succumb to the idea some government officials have that citizens render service to them.

Peace, It's Wonderful!

It was exhilarating to hear the cry of "Play ball!" ring out—and not even remotely associate the phrase with one of our more reluctant allies in the cold war.

It was inspiring to discuss "nine powers" and mean fellows like Avila, Maglie, Mays or Rosen and not men named Dulles, Eden, Adenauer or Mendes-France.

It was so pleasant to hear spiritedly partisan conversation and not have it mean that one conversant was a Republican and the other a Democrat.

It was downright wonderful to realize that, for the next few days anyway, a "foul ball" isn't some joker who has been getting his mail at Washington or some other joker who would like to move there.

The World Series couldn't possibly have come along at a better time. We hope it stretches out to the full seven-game limit.

Senator McCarran

On many issues, many Americans never could see eye to eye with Nevada's Sen. Pat McCarran. He was strictly a "for" or "against" type of legislator, and he was not the kind of an officeholder—by inclination, personality or actions—who was drawn to or who attracted all-out sentimental affection. Senator McCarran could be outspoken, bluntly so, and he was widely known as a "front row hell raiser" in the Senate where he served for 22 years. He was a Democrat, but that didn't stop him from teeing off on the Roosevelt and Truman administrations and becoming one of their bitterest foes. When Senator McCarran took a stand it was a case of let the chips fall, and fall they did in his over two decades on the Washington scene.

Nevada's voters first sent Pat McCarran to the Senate in 1932. He was re-elected four more times and, although his present term still had two more years to go, he already was campaigning for a sixth term. He just had delivered a rousing address at a party rally and was leaving the hall, when he collapsed and died of a heart attack. Sen. McCarran had had a heart condition for some time, but it was characteristic of the man that even at 78 he hadn't given a thought to slowing down.

You may have disagreed with Senator McCarran on many, many occasions. Perhaps you were one of his fans. That matters not now. Like him or dislike him, all Americans give him his just due for many long and rough years of public service.

George Sokolsky Says...

Political System Intolerant Of Differences Follow Stalin Plan

Before Stalin, the International Communist Party included many factions of opinion. There were many varieties of views and many differences as to methods of winning the world to Communism. The Party Congresses were really often meetings at which the debate was tense and exciting. Also, the Comintern was not bound to Russia which has only one country in it. In fact there were times when the German Communist Party was as important as the Russian Party and the hope of the Bolsheviks was that Germany would stage the major Marxist Revolution.

Stalin changed all that. He destroyed all dissent, all differences of opinion. He had those who opposed him killed or exiled. He reduced the Comintern from an international organization to a branch of the Kremlin. The Russian Communist Party became the directing agency of the revolutionary movement.

Ruth Fischer, who had been one of the effective heads of the German Party, cites this example of what Stalin did to remove her from the Presidency of the Comintern, in her book, "Stalin and German Communism."

"Stalin, however, had another plan. All members of the Presidium, myself included, were required under Comintern discipline to sign the Open Letter and then to defend it in our parties. Thus I was driven to sign my own political death warrant and to confess my sins in public."

Further she wrote:

"Thus the principle of hierarchical discipline was applied against me. If there are differences in the Politburo, its decision by majority vote is binding on all members and they are not allowed to dissent. The Party Congresses have to be defended outside the party even by members who disagree with them. Thus at every level disagreement is kept to the group of minimum size, and at each step down the hierarchical scale the next larger body is presented with a unanimous mandate. The secrecy of each body's deliberations is sacred; for a member of a committee to discuss them with someone in a lower hierarchical unit is the Communist equivalent of a serious misdemeanor."

This was in 1925, when Stalin was clearing away the impediments to his power. He sought to build a dictatorship and he did it at the cost of every principle of democracy. One reason that Stalin was so successful, not only in Russia but in the Communist parties of all countries, was that he split the parties into Left and Right and middle-of-the-road and also he put large numbers of members on his payroll. For instance, about one-twelfth of the German Party was in Russian pay. What share of the payroll of the American Party was on the Russian payroll? How many Chinese Communists were on the Russian payroll?

Miss Fischer says of this:

"... Bureaucrats are everywhere the props of a political apparatus; the peculiar feature of these Russian cadres within German labor was their secret coordination, their military control by secret agents, their direct affiliation with the center in Moscow..."

In a word, it was an astute corruption of those who could not turn back from the course they had adopted. The State Party and the Party State were Stalin's achievement which Hitler copied. These two men have disturbed our age and our lives more than any other forces. The strength, for instance, of the American two-party system is that it recognizes vast differences of view. Stalin and Hitler killed off all differences of point of view.

Those who shout for unity in the United States have already forgotten that unity existed in Stalin's Russia and Hitler's Germany. They killed off every individual who impaired unity. Our strength is in our differences, not in unity. When we create a political system which is intolerant of differences, we shall be following the example of Stalin who rejected every departure from an acceptance of the views of the leadership of the party of which he became the sole leader. The A.D.A. is an agency of unity and conformity in the United States. It has invaded both parties, supporting individuals who will use existing parties as vehicles for election but remaining true to the A.D.A. program. Republicans are slowly waking up to this peril.

portant? Ah, I see! Germ warfare," snapped Tsarapkin.

"A ball hit into the air is a fly. A man who drops it is guilty of an error," we explained.

"Is this dropping of a ball not forbidden?" demanded Mr. Vishinsky.

"Practically," we said.

"Then when do they execute him?" he asked.

"All the people are so careful, lighthearted and merry. How is that?" asked Mr. Vishinsky incredulously.

"This is simple. The weather is fine. Both parties to the battle have a fair chance. It looks like an even thing," we tried to explain. The U. S. S. R. men seemed deeply baffled.

Now the four umpires in blue came on. "The police..." There will be arrests," cried one of the party, showing enthusiasm.

"They are, umpires," we said. "They enforce the rules and settle all arguments. Their decision is final."

"What? No VETO!" the U. S. S. R. beehive spectators exclaimed in unison, rising and, of course, walking out.

The Once Over

The Russians See a Series Game. It was a strange dream. We had taken Georgi Zorubin, Russian ambassador and Seymour K. Tsarapkin and Andrei Vishinsky to a world series game.

The Indians were warning up and they wanted to know where Nehru was. This took some explaining. The other team, we said, was called the Giants. "They are no bigger than other people," said Tsarapkin. "This is another case of imperialistic vanity."

"Why is such a great crowd here? Who is the speaker?" asked Mr. Vishinsky. "There is no speaker. Thinkers are done here with a ball and bat," we replied. He seemed to comprehend the bat part. "Like a purge," he nodded.

"Want to keep score?" we asked the Russians.

"In my country the people do not keep score. It is announced through Pravda," said Mr. Zorubin. "What are those things the people are stuffing into their mouths?" We explained they were hot dogs. "Why do so many people eat so many hot dogs?" he asked. "It helps to keep them happy," we said. "A strange custom," said Tsarapkin. "People should be kept happy by edict."

"Why do people keep pouring in so late? Why have they not arrived well in advance? Was there no decree?" asked Mr. Vishinsky.

"Baseball fans do not come by decree," we said. "They come of their own free will when they like."

"A decadent custom," said Mr. Zorubin. "What's all the yelling for? What great man is arriving?"

"Willie Mays has just picked one over the fence and it is bye bye baby," we explained.

"Picked? Bye Bye Baby?" exclaimed the delegation. "Is Willie Mays a delicatessen dealer or a song writer?"

"To pick one is to hit something a great distance... render it completely gone... put it out of circulation, leaving no trace," we said, and the U. S. S. R. men seemed to understand in a way.

"What is all the laughing at that beehive player away out in the field?" asked Zorubin.

"He dropped a fly," we said. "What happens to a fly in-

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

No Matter How Small Man Is He's Creature Of God

A reader in Hollywood, Calif., objects to something I wrote about MAN.

It was after a hurricane when Nature certainly showed us how close we still were to monkeys, how helpless we were in the face of just one side wind, how our great technical skill faded into insignificance with one mighty blow of Aeolus.

It was not at all nice of me to make MAN appear so insignificant, she said in her letter. MAN, she claims, is the noblest creature of God. MAN, in her opinion, is the Alpha and Omega of everything—and she isn't talking about either sex, but both about male and female MAN, the human being.

To prove her point, and as a matter of comparison, she encloses a newspaper clipping about Polymorphous Altamami.

"Now there is something that is really low," she writes. "There is something to which what you wrote about MAN would apply."

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself to have such a low opinion about something that only God could have created and that is fine and noble and beautiful."

Well, when it comes to beauty, all I have to do is to look into the mirror; and when it comes to "fine and noble," all I have to do is to read the newspapers.

But that is neither here nor there. Let us see who this "low" Polymorphous Altamami is.

It's a worm, and Homer T. Russell, a zoologist at the University of California, Los Angeles, is making a study of it, although I cannot, for the life of me, see why.

The Polymorphous is very tiny and hitchhikes his way through life—just as, it seems to me, a lot of humans do.

He would never be born, in the first place, if the egg from which it hatches had not been ingested by a sand crab. That is the only place where the Polymorphous egg will hatch.

Then some marine bird, like a gull or a skooker, has to eat the sand crab, in order that the larva may become an adult worm. That is the only place where a Polymorphous can possibly grow and prosper—inside marine birds.

The spiny-headed adult worm must produce a tremendous amount of eggs. Otherwise the chance that a sand crab would ingest an egg and that the particular sand crab would be eaten by a marine bird might be too much of a long shot for its survival and successful career as a full grown Polymorphous Altamami. Yet there are millions of the adults in existence and, for that kind of a worm, lead prosperous and abundant lives.

Yes, I do believe with my California friend that MAN is somewhat more important than the little worm above described. Yet, if another big hurricane or tornado or earthquake comes along, Man, sand crab, marine bird and worm will all go down together.

I have always been a bit amused by the legend from Norse mythology of how Man was created—although it has no more to do with his actual existence than the Polymorphous Altamami.

According to old Nordic belief, there was Audhumla, the sacred cow, from whose udders flowed the four rivers of milk which nourished the giant Ymir, out of whom the world was shaped. Borr, the first man, was made by her licking salt from the snow.

What is MAN then? How good? How bad? How important? How big? How small? No matter how insignificant he may be, says my Hollywood reader, he IS a creature of God.

Or, as Shakespeare said in "Hamlet": "He was a man, take him for all in all, I shall not look upon his like again."

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

Last year when I visited Hollywood, I noticed a luscious young brunette behind the counter of a shop on Sunset Boulevard "Strip." Ten months later (to and behold) she was in a Park Avenue drawing room, bedecked in rubies and jewels, the bride of a fabulously wealthy Wall Street tycoon. "How did you do it?" I whispered.

"It was simple," she drawled, flashing what must have been the Hope diamond in my eyes. "I saw at a glance that he had a great deal to offer—so I decided he might as well offer it to me!"

One of the most eloquent summaries of the traffic situation in midtown Manhattan today was delivered by a visiting French musician, here to make recordings with his fellow artists. The musician took in the scene from a perch atop the RCA building, shrugged his shoulders, and observed, "How wonderfully you have ze traffic organized here in New York! Nussing whatever moves!"

Robert S. Allen Reports

Guided Missile Range Is Planned In The Atlantic

Washington, October 2.—A vast testing range is being set up in the Atlantic Ocean similar to the history - making one in the South Pacific—with a key difference.

The 5,000-mile Atlantic "firing reservation" will be used to test guided missiles and not nuclear weapons.

The guided missiles can be armed with atomic or hydrogen warheads. But the purpose of the Atlantic range is to test the flight and accuracy capabilities of these "push-button" weapons, and not their destructive power. Experiments with explosive warheads will continue to be conducted at Eniwetok and in Nevada.

The Atlantic range is being projected in conjunction with Britain, which is working closely with the U.S. in the development of guided missiles. In recent months, a number of secret conferences have been held by them on that.

Despite the much-publicized differences between the two governments over foreign policy, their military leaders and scientists are cooperating harmoniously and effectively in building up mutually supporting defenses, particularly in the field of new weapons, equipment and techniques.

The new range will be twice the width of the U.S., and will reach from Cape Canaveral, on the east coast of central Florida, to Ascension Island in the South Atlantic, approximately half-way between Natal, Brazil, and Portuguese West Africa.

Extending in a southeasterly direction the vast area includes the Air Force base at Cocoa, Fla., the Bahamas Islands and the Lesser Antilles.

Flying Objects—This far-flung region is needed because of the tremendous progress in perfecting long-range missiles.

Thousands of miles of space are now required to test certain types, which are capable of intercontinental flight. The closely guarded advances in this field are eye-popping.

If negotiations pan out, the Atlantic range will be operated by the Air Force and the initial tests will take place next spring.

Among the first devices slated to be tried out is the B-62 Snark.

Developed by Northrop Aircraft Company, the Snark is a pilotless bomber capable of flying up to 5,000 miles. It resembles the shorter-range Matador, which the Air Force already has in operational readiness in Europe.

The Army and Navy are also very active in this field. In fact, the expenditures of the three armed services for this purpose now are around $500,000,000.

This was disclosed by Assistant Defense Secretary W. J. McNeil in a memorandum dealing with the military budget. The new one, for the Congress that meets in January, is now being compiled, and McNeil stressed the fact that spending for guided missiles has greatly increased in the last several years.

Previously, the top outlay was $300,000,000. Under the new budget it is expected the three military services will spend more than $600,000,000 for these "push-button" weapons.

Principal credit for the notable progress in guided missiles belongs to K. T. Keller, board chairman of Chrysler Motor Corporation. He had over-all charge of this crucial activity until he returned to his private business, to the great regret of President Eisenhower and Pentagon leaders.

During Keller's brilliant work in Washington, he functioned in virtually complete anonymity. He held no press conferences, issued no statements, eschewed the giddy social whirl, and tended strictly to his own affairs. His record in this respect is almost as unique as his history-making achievements in guided missiles—most of them still highly secret.

Bulletins—A large majority of the regular Army would like to be paid twice a month instead of the traditional once monthly. A poll of the service by the Army Times resulted in a 7 to 1 count in favor of twice-a-month pay call. . . . The Marine Corps appears headed for the same kind of large-scale retirement of senior officers that the Army has been going through this year, during which several hundred generals and ranking colonels have been shelved under the 30-year-service-and-5-years-in-grade rule. The inside word in Marine circles is that this procedure may be invoked to clear the way for the promotion of younger commanders. Otherwise that will be stymied for several years because under present retirement requirements there will be only 10 vacancies in general rank in 1955.

On the matter of restrictions on equipment to be used in the archery season, the game law says: "It shall be unlawful to hunt for, kill or attempt to kill any deer . . . with any weapon other than a bow and arrow or with any bow other than a long bow controlled without aid of mechanical means outlaws the crossbow—Robin Hood!, or with any arrow with any explosive in the head or shaft."

Now to get back to this "Dear Robin Hood" business. Just to point up the fact we'd probably be no worse than the rest stalking deer with the bow:

In the first archers' season 5,542 archery licenses were issued and 33 legal bucks were reported slain by bow and arrow hunters. In 1952 the archers numbered 8,447 hunters, and 24 deer were reported taken. Last year 16,691 bowmen obtained a license for the October season and reports showed 84 legal bucks bagged.

Looks like the "take" was worse every year.

But there are many hunters—rifle or bow and arrow—who find tremendous recreational value in this type of sport. The Game Commission fully realizes recreation is more and more the reason—not meat—and that's the big reason they are approaching their tasks with such genuine concern for sportsmen.

Robin Hoods Get Ready For Season

—by H. G. Heller

Summery weather this week, certainly didn't get us thinking about deer season. It was an inquiry from a gent who couldn't resist a "Dear Robin Hood" lead to a note asking about details on hunting deer with a bow and arrow.

Our archery, we'll admit, was confined to a bow we made many years ago out of one of the spines of an old umbrella and some very crude arrows. In spite of the "Dear Robin Hood" crack we'll tell everybody who's interested about the two-week antlered deer season for archers.

It opens Oct. 11. Hunting hours are 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, except Sunday. This will be the fourth state-wide bow season in the state. The Game Commission has declared the state's two archery preserves abolished as they are no longer needed because of the state-wide open season.

Male deer only may be taken. A legal buck will have two or more points to one antler, or it may carry an antler three or more inches long without points, measuring from the top of the skull as the deer is in life.

A bow hunter is required to own and wear a 1954 hunting license and a special archery license while in quest of deer during the bow and arrow deer season. The special license, costing $2, must be purchased from the Department of Revenue, Harrisburg.

On the matter of restrictions on equipment to be used in the archery season, the game law says: "It shall be unlawful to hunt for, kill or attempt to kill any deer . . . with any weapon other than a bow and arrow or with any bow other than a long bow controlled without aid of mechanical means outlaws the crossbow—Robin Hood!, or with any arrow with any explosive in the head or shaft."

Nardi Pleads Innocent To Slaying Guard

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Oct. 1 (AP)—Alfred Nardi, 22, of Paxtang, near Harrisburg, will stand trial the week of Nov. 8 in the fatal knifing of a guard at the Pennsylvania Institution for Defective Delinquents during an escape attempt.

Judge Swirles Hines of Huntingdon County Court today set the trial date after accepting a plea of innocent from Nardi at his formal court arraignment. Judge Hines extended the September term of the court until Nov. 27 for the trial.

Nardi, an inmate of the institution, was indicted for murder by the county grand jury on Sept. 21.

The guard, Charles R. Elder, 61, was found stabbed through the heart with a butcher's knife and beaten over the head on Aug. 9 in the institution bake shop after Nardi and three others tried to make an escape. Nardi scaled the wall and was recaptured soon after. The others never got out of the institution grounds.

The other inmates were charged with holding a guard hostage and attempted escape.

They are: Kenneth Storm, 17, of Paradise Valley, Cresco RD; Richard Robinson, 20, Alexandria; Thomas DeArment, 20, Lewistown.

The 1956 truck, loaded with baled hay, began to increase its speed down the long hill south of Mount Pocono. At the "old 611 turnoff" Blodgett swerved off the highway in an attempt to slow the vehicle down.

The truck passed the driveway which leads to Hawthorne Inn, smashed through a barricade and careened back onto the highway. Both the driver and his passenger jumped from the truck cab before the vehicle stopped moving, police said.

Neither the man nor the woman was injured, police reported. Investigation of the accident is being continued.

Theodore Heads East Pocono Resorts

W. J. Altier Retires After Four Terms

CHARLES THEODORE, owner of Blue Ridge Inn, was named president of the Eastern Poconos Resort Association this week.

He succeeds William J. Altier, of Altier's Inn, who opened the first fall meet with a summation of the achievements of the association and a "look ahead" into future possibilities for the organization.

Mr. Altier, who has held the presidency of Eastern Poconos for four years, announced he was not a candidate for re-election. Mr. Altier said he had advised a recent meeting of board of directors, when a nominating committee was appointed to report at the September meeting, that he would decline nomination for another year due to business and personal reasons.

Emphasizing the organization has others capable of leadership, Mr. Altier said four years as the head of the group was sufficient.

"This is a fast growing and now widely known resort region due to even bigger and greater things," Mr. Altier said.

Ed Schneider, chairman of the nominating committee, said the group had met with several potential candidates for president. All had declined, he said. Schneider called for nominations from the floor.

Nominees were: Gus Poulas, Tom X Motel; Charles Theodore, Blue Ridge Inn; Ed Schneider, Willow Dell House; Harry Ahnert, Fernwood; Hal Hamlen, Airport; Elwood Huffman, Mountain Lake House. All except Theodore and Poulas declined.

Red Cross To Sponsor Home Nursing Courses In All High Schools Of County This Winter

THE MONROE County Chapter of the American Red Cross will again offer its home nursing course to students in all of the high schools of the county, it was announced last night at the executive committee meeting of the chapter at Red Cross headquarters.

The Home Nursing committee met last week at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Eugene Martin to map out plans for the courses which are given in cooperation with home economics department. Miss Miriam Lark is setting up the schedules in the school.

In addition, there will be an adult home nursing course given at Delaware Water Gap beginning next week. Mrs. Thomas Shoemith will serve as instructor for the course. Fifteen women have already signed up for the course, and there is room for several more, it was announced.

Detlef Hansen, chapter chairman, presided at the meeting when reports of the various committees were given.

Mrs. Walter Dreher, reporting for the volunteer services, said that 78 volunteers had given more than 1,047 hours during September. Of those hours, the bloodmobile visit required 259 hours of 44 volunteers. The Gray Ladies at the hospital, 39 of them, gave 426 hours. Nurses Aides at the hospital, 13, gave 340 hours. Nine volunteers served at the chapter 12 hours.

Mrs. Ida Kunkle, executive secretary, reported that in home service during the month, nine cases had been cared for, seven of those active service cases; 16 requests were for director from district two.

Mrs. Elsie Pipher, Bushkill Falls House, defeated Harry Ahnert, Fernwood, for director from district five.

Mr. Ahnert, however, was named a director at large in a five-way race, meaning a return to the board for another two years.

President Theodore asked members for their continued support to the organization and "cooperation and assistance" during his term of office. He pledged an all-out effort to continue the high effort to promote Eastern Poconos.

Mr. Altier took the occasion prior to adjournment to express his gratitude to board members, officers and members for their support the past four years. He urged similar backing for the new president.

not counted as cases were answered; two cases were given financial assistance; and 6 telegrams and 9 long distance calls were made on behalf of service men, veterans or their dependents. There were 75 office interviews.

The chapter voted to sponsor gifts for "Christmas on the High Seas" in which gifts are presented to service men who are at sea and Christmas gifts from home on Christmas Day. They will ask gifts from service clubs in the community for the project.

LeRoy Mikels, blood donor chairman, reported on the cooperation of industry in the recent visit of the blood mobile, and announced that the committee in charge of Women's Donor Day on October 19 were hard at work.

Suspect Freed On Bond In Burglary Case

BERNARD REMBOLD, 23, of Horseshoe Run, W. Va., was free on $750 bail yesterday.

Rembold was committed to Monroe County Jail last week. He is charged with involvement in the burglary of the C. H. Travis and Sons hardware store in East Stroudsburg on Nov. 21, 1953.

Bail was set at $750 last week by President Judge Fred W. Davis. Rembold presented bail yesterday at the office of the prothonotary.

INSIDE STORY ABOUT HAIR AND SCALP

... BY RENOWNED TRICHOLOGIST!

FACTUAL DEMONSTRATIONS WILL BE CONDUCTED HERE TUESDAY, 2 P.M. 'TILL 9 P.M.

STROUDSBURG, October 2 — This is the second interview in a series of five to be published throughout the United States.

In this frank and important interview, Director D. Russell Collins explains why your hair and scalp must have care, from childhood, the same as your skin and teeth.

Director Collins frankly admits, "If people would learn to take care of their hair and scalp, as they are taught to care for other parts of their body, average treatment would only amount to an essential program of hair and scalp hygiene."

But, explains Collins, "the greater percentage of the human race has not been educated in this respect. Therefore, corrective measures in concentrated treatments must be taken now, not later. The longer a person waits, the greater their chances are of becoming a hopeless case."

IMMEDIATE ATTENTION!

"The most important message I have to offer the American public is this," Collins emphasized. "Don't wait until it's too late! The unhealthy or diseased condition embedded in nearly every scalp in America, must be attended to immediately."

"I also want to caution the public against this, don't look to cure all tonics or wild superstitions. They so often increase the rapidity of baldness. Look around you, the results are obvious."

WE WILL NOT MISLEAD

The Collins firm will not mislead anyone into believing or thinking there is a cure-all, or any cure for sick baldness. Collins further gives this warning to the already shiny bald "It's too late!" "They waited too long!" Nobody in this world can grow a new hair after the root is dead."

Collins points out, "Unless there is fuzz growing through the scalp, they would not be permitted to avail themselves of the Collins concentrated treatments."

GUARANTEED!
(You're the Judge)

Director Collins and his staff of professional trichologists will not only tell a person the Collins Treatments will restore their hair and scalp to a healthy, vibrant condition. THEY GUARANTEE IT!

They will further guarantee this healthy condition for a lifetime. If you will follow their simple methods of hygiene, after your hair and scalp is in a healthy condition.

FREE DETAILED EXAM

"We know our profession and sincerely wish to show and educate the public with true facts about the hair and scalp."

"Therefore, our trichologists are being sent throughout the United States in order to give every one an opportunity to learn the true inside story," Collins said.

"And as no two cases are exactly the same, examinations must be conducted with the individual in private."

"There will be no charge made for this examination and no one will be obligated or embarrassed in any way."

INSIDE STORY, TUESDAY

If you wish you can call Trichologist S. M. Carey at the Indian Queen Hotel in Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, for an appointment, but it is not necessary.

Just come to the Indian Queen Hotel between the hours of 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday ONLY, Oct. 5, and your free, private examination will be conducted in strictest confidence.

Tired of turkey hash, stew, fricasees, and other leftovers from a big bird? Try chopping the meat and adding to cream cheese with mashed brown-and-serve sausage and a few chopped mint leaves. This makes a new potato-chip dip for a crowd, or may be used as a spread on crackers or melba toast. You'll get an even more sensational result if you substitute Roquefort for the cream cheese.

Cream cheese, mixed with cream (sweet or sour) until it is dunking consistency and flavored with chopped chives makes a wonderful dip for carrot sticks, celery wedges, raw cauliflowerettes and tiny tomatoes. If chives aren't available use a minced scallion, including the green part.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

One of life's darkest moments comes when, after having thoroughly enjoyed a totally unnecessary sundae and having licked up the last of the syrup, you suddenly discover that you have left your wallet at home.

The ice cream suddenly seems very cold in your stomach, as you look longingly for somebody — anybody — you know well enough to borrow a quarter from. Of course if you're in a familiar store with a familiar clerk, the problem is greatly simplified.

Well, anyway, all this is leading up to the observation that it's good to live in a town where the clerk is apt to be a familiar one, or if not that somebody you know will very probably happen by if you're patient.

"Patience is a virtue. I wonder that people don't cultivate it more," is a saying I've had quoted at me since I can remember. But it never seems to have had much effect.

Time, in autumn, has such a way of vanishing even when you're using every minute, that wasted ones make you sort of frantic. Unless, of course, you're doing the washing.

"Come down to the gift department and see something you're interested in." Marion Leedom invited by telephone the other afternoon.

"What?" I demanded. "Pewter coffee pots . . . Swedish tiles . . . or what?"

"Well, you can look at those if you like," Marion agreed, "we have them. But what are you REALLY interested in?"

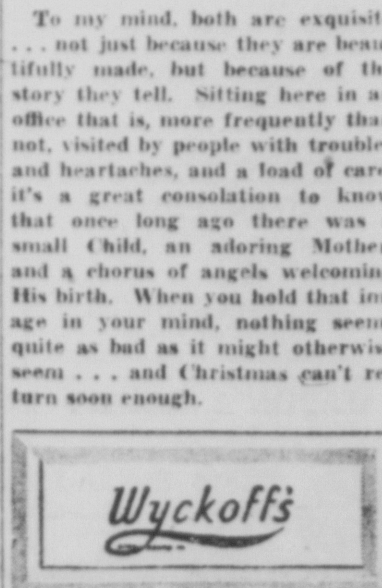

"Oh," I said, coming slowly through a fog. "Madonnas. Do you have some madonnas?"

"We certainly do," Marion chorried, "and you'll love them. They're not in frames . . . these are china statuettes, and they're beautiful."

No, five minutes later I was racing down the stairs to see something for which, I knew only too well, I'd eat my heart out, never being able to afford. That, I thought, is the worst part of my job . . . so much to covet coming in each day.

And now I was there, in front of the big display of beautifully made figurines from California. My eyes skimmed over the flirtatious ladies and the elegant men, to rest appreciatively on Mother and Babe, delicately captured in white china touched with gold. These are modern Madonnas, telling a rather stream-lined contemporary version of the nativity, with its wealth of love and devotion. The faces are sweet and pure, and the babies are neatly proportioned, lovable, and entirely believable. One stands upright in the arms of the Mother . . . the other lies on a bed of gold straw gazing blissfully into her eyes. One is a tall, full-length Madonna; the other is a bust standing only a few inches high.

To my mind, both are exquisite . . . not just because they are beautifully made, but because of the story they tell. Sitting here in an office that is, more frequently than not, visited by people with troubles and heartaches, and a load of care, it's a great consolation to know that once long ago there was a small child, an adoring Mother, and a chorus of angels welcoming His birth. When you hold that image in your mind, nothing seems quite as bad as it might otherwise seem . . . and Christmas can't return soon enough.

Stroudsburg Decisions Palmerton, 12-7

Mountaineers Triumph On Late Pass

PAUL "Doc" Lim's pass to Roger Lane, with three minutes remaining in the contest, enabled Stroudsburg High to come from behind and register a 12-7 football victory over Palmerton at Gordon Giffels Field last night, as Mothers of the Mountaineers were honored in a halftime ceremony.

Underdog Palmerton, showing no respect for statistics, came to life for a third period touchdown that threatened to throw the game into the upset category before the Mountaineers fought back for the winning score.

Stroudsburg broke a scoreless deadlock late in the first period when Don Deibler, best running back on the Stroudsburg squad last night, crashed over from the two-yard line, Lim's placement attempt failed and the Mountaineers, who were halted on the Palmerton one in the second period, held a 6-0 lead at halftime.

Don Hayes and Deibler were the big ground gainers on the scoring drive for the home team, while Lim's passing to Doug Shook and Dave Nevil highlighted the drive which reached Palmerton's one-yard stripe just before the end of the half.

Palmerton's Blue and White clad Bombers, who had been held to four yards gained net, went into the lead in the third quarter. A pass from Dave Jones to Dick Noll set up the touchdown on Stroudsburg's 26. Jones cut off his own right tackle on the next play, turned toward the left sidelines and ran 36 yards for the touchdown almost untouched. Dieter Wentz added the extra point from placement to give the visiting Bombers a 7-6 edge.

Bob Parsons, brilliant line backer for Palmerton all night, almost gave the Bombers another touchdown early in the final period when he intercepted a pass on his own 35 and appeared destined to score before being caught from behind by Bill Stout on the Stroudsburg 22.

The Mountaineers held here and moved the ball to midfield. Wallie Ademann kicked to the Palmerton nine and the Bombers punted back to the 29, although the kick was very nearly blocked by Nevil.

Deibler and Hayes running and a Lim and Deibler aerial put the ball on Palmerton's 24. With three minutes remaining Lim tossed to Lane, who made an over-the-shoulder catch on the eight and raced into the endzone for what proved to be the winning touchdown. Lane failed in an attempted plunge for the extra point.

Stroudsburg "ran out the clock" after Palmerton failed to gain on its series of downs.

The Mountaineers are scheduled to play Pen Argyl next Saturday, at Pen Argyl.

Lineups follow:

Warriors Open Soccer Season At Panzer

EAST Stroudsburg State Teachers College launches its soccer season today, as the Warriors oppose Panzer College, at East Orange, N. J. The game is scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

ESSTC annually presents a powerful soccer squad, coached by veteran mentor Howard DeNike, DeNike reports that he is in the midst of a rebuilding program this season, especially in the goal and backfield department.

One of the positions to be filled by DeNike this season is that of goalie. The ESSTC coach was undecided last night as to who will actually hold down the defensive position today. The final choice will be between John Saunders, a sophomore, and Howard "Howie" Staeger, a freshman.

Archery Shoot Listed

POCONO PINES—Pocono Bowmen, local archery club, will feature a Broad Head shoot, here on its range tomorrow at 1 p.m.

Saylorsburg, Kunkletown Clash For Playoff Crown Tomorrow

SAYLORSBURG—Residents of this locality and Kunkletown will shift from the World Series to a County Series tomorrow, as Saylorsburg and Kunkletown will settle the Pocono Mountains League playoff championship.

The game is scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

Saylorsburg came back last Sunday to even the series at one-game each with an 8-5 nod over Kunkletown, on the same field where tomorrow's contest will be held.

Kunkletown opened the series on its home field with a 12-5 nod over Saylorsburg to hold a brief lead which faded into a tie last weekend.

Saylorsburg won the right to play the third and deciding game here on its home field by a flip of a coin following last Sunday's victory.

Kunkletown's pitching chores will be handled by either Asher Smith, Woodrow "Woody" Costenbader or Russ Ziegenfuss.

Saylorsburg on the other hand will counter with either Bob Benson, winner of last Sunday's tussle, or Ralph "Peanuts" Moyer, veteran control artist.

Bangor Inflicts Initial Loss On Cavaliers, 31-19

BANGOR—A strong Bangor High School eleven collapsed East Stroudsburg's undefeated season and maintained its own unbroken skein here at Memorial Park last night with a thrilling 31-19 verdict before more than 3000 spectators.

It was strictly an offensive game packed with thrills galore including brilliant runbacks of kickoffs by East Stroudsburg and Bangor backs; long scintillating runs by both sets of backs; brilliant pass interceptions by Bangor, and plenty of offensive power.

Eastburg scored first when the Cavaliers capitalized on a fumble by Bangor's Duane Miller on the first running play of the game. Mike Palmisano kicked off to the Bangor 10 and Duane Miller ran back to the

Local Gridders Seek Second Win At Ithaca

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College will be searching for its second straight football victory of the present season today when the Warriors battle Ithaca College, at Ithaca, N.Y.

The kickoff is scheduled to take place at 2 p.m.

ESSTC opened the season with a bang last weekend by sweeping to a 19-0 victory over Millersville State Teachers College, on the latter's home field.

Coach Gene Martin announced yesterday that he would start the same team that opened against Millersville, hopeful that it can continue its winning ways.

The forward wall, coached by George Ockershausen, will feature Lew Judy at left end; John Andrews, left tackle; Ken Cox, left guard; Warren Davis, center; Jim Favello, right guard; Carmen Martucci, right tackle, and Wilmont Smith, right end.

The backfield will consist of Warren Hoeffner, quarterback; Dick Merring, left halfback; Charley Shaw, right half, and Denny Roth, fullback. Merring is a former East Stroudsburg High star, and Martucci earned his football spurs at Lehigh High.

Other backs almost certain to see action are Dick Merkle, Whitehall; Matt Casciano, Bangor; Jim Olinger, Northampton, and Don C. nman, former Muhlenberg star.

Charley German, star end with the Whitehall High grid machine last year, will also see action on the wing today.

Martin reported that Guido De-Torric, highly regarded halfback, injured an ankle in gym class and Gary Panovec suffered a knee injury in class. Clyde Sweigert, a guard, is bothered with a damaged finger. All three are doubtful performers today.

Ithaca is expected to feature a team composed mostly of freshmen against ESSTC.

Baker Gains Nod Over Wallace

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1 (AP)—Big Bob Baker, hulking Pittsburgh heavyweight, dropped Cooley Wallace for a nine count in the fourth round and battered his New York opponent in the final stages tonight to win a unanimous upset decision in 10 rounds at the Cleveland Armory. Baker weighed 213, Wallace 203.

Bangor 37. On the first play from scrimmage, Miller fumbled and Frank Lupin recovered for East Stroudsburg on the Bangor 35.

Bob "Red" Kupiszewski and Gene Plaza took the ball down to the four yard line where a personal foul penalty on Bangor put the ball on the two from where Billy Sommers sneaked over. Mike Palmisano's try from placement was blocked by Walter "Red" Heard.

Bangor bounced back quickly, however, in the first quarter. The Slayers took the ensuing kickoff on the six yard line and Duane Miller ran it back to the Bangor 38 from where Bangor drove to a touchdown. Miller and Jack Stenlake's running and a pass from Dick Hess to Louie Casciano highlighted the march. From the 17 yard line, Hess faded back and pitched a pass to Casciano who made a beautiful leaping stab for the ball and caught it and scampered over the goal line.

Eastburg countered by taking Bangor's kickoff and marching all the way to the Bangor seven where the cavaliers were stymied by Bangor's defense as the first quarter ended.

Bangor took over on its own seven and then proceeded to march all the way for the second score featuring the running of Duane Miller. Miller scored on a plunge from the East Stroudsburg one yard line. Ralph "Barney" Stenlake's placement was good.

A few minutes later Duane Miller intercepted a Sommers' pass on the Bangor 25 and returned it to the Eastburg 25, where he was caught from behind by Gene Plaza. Hess, in desperation pitched two passes into the endzone which were both brilliantly knocked down by Sommers.

Eastburg took over on its own 21 but couldn't gain anything on the ground. Bangor's end, Arthur "Bucky" Parsons, however, blocked Sommers' punt which rolled back to the Eastburg four yard line where it was covered by Dick Stinson, reserve guard for Bangor.

A pass by Hess was grounded and three ground plays failed as Eastburg held for the last two downs on the one-foot line just as the half ended. Score at halftime Bangor 13, Eastburg 6.

Jim Kinder ran back Bangor's kickoff at the start of the second half to his own 44. Racking up three first downs quickly, the Cavaliers took the ball to the Bangor 32, where Kupiszewski on a quick opener burst through the middle of the line cut for the left sideline and seeing that he was trapped, reversed his field and scampered unopposed over the goal line for Eastburg's second score. Heard again blocked Palmisano's attempt from placement.

Bangor again bounced back and took the ensuing kickoff for another score. Jack Stenlake ran back Palmisano's kickoff to the Eastburg 43 from his own 17. A short while later, Casciano scampered from Eastburg's 22 to the Eastburg two yard line. A personal foul penalty against Eastburg put the ball on the one yard line from where Hess sneaked over for Bangor's third score. Stenlake's placement was wide.

Just after the fourth quarter began, Bangor scored its fourth touchdown. Coach Granville Evans uncovered a new running halfback in Casciano who had played an end position all season. Casciano scored this touchdown on a 30 yard run around his own right end from the left halfback position and completely outran the Cavalier's de-

State Favored Over Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 1 (AP)—Favored Penn State, sparked by Lenny Moore, invades Archbold Stadium here tomorrow to take on Syracuse, one of the nation's top football teams defensively. The odds makers give Penn State a seven-point advantage.

Moore outgained Illinois' J. C. Caroline last week as the Nittany Lions upset the Illini, 14-12. The speedy halfback rolled up a net gain rushing of 137 yards to Caroline's 116.

fense in doing so. Stenlake's placement again went awry.

On the first play after Bangor's kickoff, Casciano brilliantly intercepted a pass on his own 47 and ran it back to the Eastburg 47. Then, on the first play from scrimmage, Jack Stenlake broke up the middle and outraced the Eastburg secondary to score on 47 yard run for Bangor's first score.

Billy Sommers set up Eastburg's on final TD on a 15 yard run from punt formation to the Bangor 20. A penalty put the ball on the 15.

Interference was ruled on the Bangor one yard line on a Kupiszewski pass intended for Plaza. Kupiszewski bulled over on the next play for the Cavalier's last score. Kupiszewski passed to Plaza for the point after touchdown.

Sommers suffered a chipped bone on the left ankle on the 15 yard run and may be lost for the balance of the season. Palmisano also suffered rib injuries.

Pocono opened the present season last week with a 3-0 nod over Polk. Yesterday's outing was the first of the campaign for Barrett.

Lopez Announces Lemon As Starting Hurler In Today's Do-Or-Die Game For Cleveland

By FRITZ HOWELL
CLEVELAND, Oct. 1 (AP)—"The Series isn't over, and we're coming back with Bon Lemon tomorrow."

So said senior Al Lopez, skipper of the Cleveland Indians, after his American League loss 6-2 to New York's Giants today to take the short end of the 3-0 World Series game count—an obstacle no club has ever overcome.

"We're still a good ball club, but even a good club can't win if it isn't hitting, and that's our trouble right now. We hope to snap out of it," Lopez said.

Lemon, beaten 5-2 in the series opener in New York on pinch-hitter Dusty Rhodes' tenth-inning three-run homer, is coming back after only two days of rest.

"But Bob is strong, and says he's ready and anxious to go," the Indian manager said. "He hasn't worked that close together all year, because we had a good bunch of other pitchers, but a year ago he and Wynn and Garcia pitched every third day for virtually a month. Bob will be all right."

Al Rosen, Indians' third baseman, said he removed the compress bandage from his upper leg today and did some hobbling about after replacing it with a lighter wrapping.

"It felt pretty good, and I think I can go tomorrow," the runs-batted-in star and long-ball hitter said.

Lopez echoed the wish with "We've missed Rosen in there. He's always a big threat. We'll wait until tomorrow to decide, but if he's able to go, he'll be in the lineup."

Big Mike Garcia, belted for five hits and four runs in three innings today before 71,555 fans—a crowd far under pre-series expectations—was just a bit too wild to be effective, Lopez said.

"When Mike is right, and working easily, his fast ball takes off in either direction, and he's tough to hit. But when his control is off, and he tries to put an extra something on the ball, his fast one straightens out and loses its hop. That's what happened to him today."

In answer to a query about the three straight defeats, Lopez said: "We lost four in a row only once this year, to Chicago just before the All-Star game. We snapped out of that and played good ball the rest of the way and we can still win this Series if we can get a few hits at the right time."

Puerto Rico Honors Gomez

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 1 (AP)—Luis Munoz Marin joined Puerto Rican baseball fans today in congratulating Ruben Gomez for pitching the New York Giants to victory over the Cleveland Indians in the third game of the World Series.

The governor cabled this message to Gomez: "I am certain all Puerto Ricans share my rejoicing over your brilliant work on this first occasion in which Puerto Rico has been represented by a pitcher in a World Series game."

Radios were turned on in almost every office and store in San Juan as crowds listened to the game.

Doing Something Worthwhile Makes Newspaperboys Better Able To Progress In Life

NEWSPAPERBOY, DAY is being observed throughout the United States as part of National Newspaper Week.

In this connection, The Daily Record reprints the following tribute to the carriers. It was written by Charles Staab, circulation director, Cincinnati Enquirer:

"Busy Boys Are Better Boys" like so many slogans, requires definition. Busy doing what? Every boy is busy doing something, good or bad, in his leisure time before and after school hours. The point is—is he busy doing something worthwhile? Is he learning some of the basic facts of life that will serve him well as he grows older?

Every mother and father want their son to "get ahead"—to get a full measure of progress and happiness out of his adult life. Intellectual training and ability alone are not enough to accomplish these objectives.

The world is filled with educated derelicts. In every practical walk of life, the essential ingredient for success and happiness is the ability to deal with other people and understand them. And the art of getting along with people, like most useful arts, is best learned by doing.

The newspaperboy—the boy who works his way through high school—is more apt to have this ability instinctively than others who did not have the advantage of this background.

It is gratifying indeed to note that the foundation value of part-time work training for boys is now recognized by thoughtful and realistic educators, public officials and parents. In all America there is no better value in work training than the lessons of promptness, service, dependability, courtesy, thrift, obligation, selling and human relations learned by actually doing these worthwhile things—day-in day-out—as a newspaper carrier boy.
